

LABOR & EMPLOYMENT LAW ALERT

NPELRA Publishes Update Regarding Proposed Overtime Protection

The National Public Employer Labor Relations Association (NPELRA) recently published a Legislative Update for its members titled “President Obama Proposes Overtime Protections to Nearly 5 Million Workers”. This communication addresses the United States Department of Labor (DOL)'s proposed changes to the current regulations under the federal Fair Labor Standards Act (Act) concerning the exemptions to overtime pay requirements under the Act. The changes include an update to the salary threshold and automatic increases to the threshold. The DOL is also considering making changes to the primary duties test.

Read the full NPELRA Legislative Update here.

Please do not hesitate to contact one of our Firm’s employment law attorneys identified below if you would like more information on this issue.

Melinda Burdick Bowe	315.565.4507	mbowe@ Hancocklaw.com
John F. Corcoran	315.565.4515	jcorcoran@ Hancocklaw.com
Lindsey H. Hazelton	315.565.4527	lhazelton@ Hancocklaw.com
Whitney M. Kummerow*	315.565.4517	wkummerow@ Hancocklaw.com
John T. McCann	315.565.4540	jmccann@ Hancocklaw.com
Robert J. Thorpe	315.565.4555	rthorpe@ Hancocklaw.com
Robert C. Whitaker, Jr.	315.565.4557	rwhitaker@ Hancocklaw.com

*Admitted to practice in NJ and PA only

This communication is for informational purposes and is not intended as legal advice.

You can also read this alert and more on our Hancock Estabrook Municipal Law Blog:
<http://www.hancocklaw.com/municipal-law-blog/>